Birks sterling silver tea services are the best that artistic designing and fine craftsmanship can produce when she pours tea in the firelit living room, the wind outside, the crackling blaze and the cheery tea-table all seem in conspiracy to give an added touch of intimacy to the occasion.

How many low-voiced questions have passed over that old tea service? Truly, could it speak, it would have wonderful tales to tell—tales of tenderness and of mirth that it has heard and seen throughout its long life of usefulness and beauty.

Silverware is a gift that lasts, not a lifetime, but centuries.

SOPHS WIN TRACK MEET FROM FROSH

Day Far From Ideal for Spectators.

NO NEW RECORDS.

Freshman Wins Three Mile Event from Creelman.

The Freshmen and Sophomores made a promising showing in the meet on Saturday, notwithstanding the fact that the weather was anything but pleasant for the competitors. The track was soddy and precluded any possibility of making good time, but the spectators were able to get a good line on the ability of the men who took part in the meet.

Perhaps the most outstanding performance of the day was that of Wiggins, in the three-mile event, when he won from Creelman, of last year's intercollegiate team by a good margin. Although the time made by him was not particularly good, he should be able to cut it down close to the record if he trains faithfully and gets the advantage of Van Wagner's coaching.

Lane and Meehan showed that they are capable of doing well in the sprints, while Gammell gave a good performance in both the quarter and half mile events. Alexander also has the appearance of a coming runner from his showing in the 880 yard event, and will be watched closely in the practices. Consiglio won the largest amount of events, carrying off the hurdles, broad jump, hammer, and discus events, and taking second in the shot put.

Many of the competitors gave promise of becoming very good with a little practice, and it is to be hoped that they will continue turning out every afternoon. The meet was won by the Sophomores by a margin of about ten points.

The results were:
Discus—1, Consiglio; 2, Nelligan; 3, Rabinovitch. Distance—85 ft. 7 in.
100 Yards—1, Lane; 2, Bernstein; 3, Smith. Time 11.3 secs.
Half Mile—1, G. Gammell; 2, Alexander; 3, Walker. Time, 2 min. 18.2 sec.
Pole Vault—1, Adams; 2, Fannar. Height, 8 ft.
High Jump—1, McCullough; 2, Starke; 3, Hay. Height, 5 ft. 1 in.
16 lb. Shot—1, Starke; 2, Consiglio; 3, Adams. Distance, 29 ft. 9 in.
Broad Jump—1, Consiglio; 2, Phillips; 3, Starke. Distance, 19 ft. 1.2 in.
Mile—1, James; 2, Innes; 3, McCormack. Time, 5 min. 47.2 sec.
220 Yards—1, Meahan; 2, Warren; 3, Carter. Time, 26.1 sec.
16 lb. Hammer—1, Consiglio; 2, Starke. Distance, 49 ft. 3 in.
Hurdles—1, Consiglio; 2, Fellowes; 3, Kennedy. Time, 22 secs.
440 yards—1, Gammell; 2, Wilson; 3, Walker. Time, 57.2 secs.
Three Miles—1, Wiggins; 2, Creelman; 3, Fullerton. Time, 17 min. 15.2 secs.
1 Mile Relay—1, Freshmen; 2, Sophomores.

ROOTERS ALL OUT THIS AFTERNOON

All are urged to turn out at a meeting of the Rooters' Club which will be held in the Union Ball Room at 5.10 p.m. today. "Teedies" Thompson and "Joe" Wain will be in attendance, together with the famous band.

Last Friday's practice was carried out in good fashion, and with the addition of the band more "pep" will be instilled into the Rooters. Centennial week is crowded with events, but none is more important than the meeting at 5.10 p.m.

Only five short days remain before the great game, and "the thundering thousand," or "thousands," will in no small way contribute to victory.

TEACHERS FOR SOLDIERS

The Florida Times Union says: The wastage of Mexico, its withdrawal from the procession of the times, has been one of the crying shames of this century. That so many millions of fertile acres have lain fallow, so great a wealth of mineral has remained locked away, and so many millions of miserable peons have been deprived of securities and comforts, has been a great evil. If Oregon can build schoolhouses instead of arsenals, hospitals instead of forts, roads instead of cannon, harbors instead of battlefields, and pursue an up-to-date foreign policy besides, he may yet be able to win from the world acknowledgment of his nation's right to a place in decent international society.

TRUTH OR TRADITION IN HISTORY BOOKS?

During the past few weeks a heated controversy has been going on in the "Letters to the Editor" column of the New York Times, concerning the truthful teaching of History—particularly that of the American Revolution. Charles Grant Miller, of fame unknown to "Who's Who", began the skirmish by attacking elementary text-books on the ground that they destroy patriotism. These books present the American position as partly right and partly wrong. According to Mr. Miller, we ought to regard the American leaders as saints and the English ministry and king as demons. The next week the author of one of the text-books attacked answered Mr. Miller in a sensible, restrained way. Truth, he said, must be placed above all things, whether or not empty tradition and false patriotism suffer.

Plenty of people who should know better are blinded to the need for historical accuracy by tradition and upbringing. A late issue of the Times brings a letter from a high school teacher who was considered an arch-heretic to American ideals because he "dared" to teach history as it really

MCGILL AND MONTREAL IN RUGBY GAME

English Rugby Attracts Crowd

MONTREAL WINS.

McGill Teams Put up a Gallant Fight.

McGill and the Montreal English Rugby Clubs staged a "Rugger" carnival on the Old Campus on Saturday afternoon. In the first game the "First" teams of each club clashed. Each team scored two tries, but the Montreal men converted theirs, and the resulting score was 10 points to 6. In the next game the second string men put up a very energetic display. Each side scored a try, but again Montreal converted and won the game 5 points to 3. Although defeated, the McGill Club count it a successful day, inasmuch as thirty men were given a chance to show their football ability in an actual game. However, the Club regrets keenly the injuries suffered by two excellent players, Bradshaw and Clarke.

McGill took the offensive at the start, and pressed Montreal hard for several minutes. Play fluctuated from one 25 yd. line to the other until Airy ran past McKinnon for Montreal's first try. He also converted. Score 5-0. McGill worked hard to even up, and scored a try when Fred Bradshaw crossed the line after a clever three-quarter run. Budden failed to convert a difficult kick. Score 5-3. At this time McGill's back division was weakened by injuries to Bradshaw, Clark and McDougall, forcing these men from the game.

After half-time McGill took the offensive again, and Kemp scored. Helmick failed to convert. Score 5-6 for McGill. After a good deal of good, bad and indifferent mid-field play, Hyde took advantage of a loose ball and crossed the line for Montreal's second try. Colvil converted by a pretty kick. Score 10-6 for Montreal. The game ended a few minutes after with the Red and White squad pressing their opponents.

THE SONG BOOK ON SALE TO-DAY

At Union and All Bookstores.

The Song Book is on sale today. Copies may be secured at the Union and at all the book stores. The price of $1.50 is very reasonable as the Students' Council have gone to considerable expense in its issue.

The book fills a long-needed want, and contains all National and college songs, together with the cream of popular and war songs. Students will now be able to play "Hail Alma Mater" or jazz off "About a Million Years Ago" with equal facility.

All are urged to buy their copies immediately as it is essential that everyone should possess the book, especially at the time of the Centennial.

was.

As an important educational problem, this question cannot fail to interest us. Is it a pleasant outlook when pretty falsehoods—just because they are pretty—must be fed to minds not yet trained to sift out truth? The impressions received in childhood are difficult to eradicate; truth, when it does force its way through a barrier of early prejudice, brings with it all the attendant dangers of disillusionment. Furthermore, an enduring faith in one's country is founded not on ignorance of its shortcomings but on an appreciation of the counterbalancing merits. The sooner this is recognized in our elementary history classes, the sooner will our "spoiled" patriotism give way to one of reason.—Harvard Crimson.

WELCOME HOME

This is THE week.

On Wednesday the four days' celebration to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of this University will begin, but already we have with us the grads of Old McGill. This morning the registration of the never-ending stream of incoming graduates commences at Strathcona Hall, and for the next week the Campus and the streets of the city will be thronged with the faces of those seeking to revive the memories of their undergraduate life in days gone by.

It will be a strange home-coming for some of them, for McGill is an Empire University, and her graduates are to be found in every rank of life and in every quarter of the globe. Recently it was reported that two graduates were making their way to the Reunion from North Henan, in China, where, until the advent of the war, there actually existed a McGill Graduates' Society with a membership of ten.

The changes in the University itself are marked. There will still be the Old Arts Building at the head of the long avenues of trees, but for the graduate of the sixties or the seventies of last century, who has not revisited his Alma Mater since that time, a new McGill will have replaced the old. The New Medical building and the Stadium are the work of the last decade only, and piles of rough-hewn stone in at least two places on the Campus show that it is still a growing McGill, and that the University is yet young for all her hundred years.

As it will be indeed a home-coming in the truest sense of the word the officers of the Graduate Society and the University authorities have spared no effort to make the events of the coming week live in the minds of our visitors. Wednesday evening has been assigned to the Undergraduate Body as a whole, when their share of the entertainment will take place. The Council have been hard at work on the plans for the Fête-de-Nuit, which is to take place on that occasion, but it will require the whole-hearted, enthusiastic co-operation of every student to assure its complete success. This is the chance for everybody. There will be other Undergraduate events on both track and gridiron, but here the great effort will of necessity be confined to the specially-trained few. It is not given to all of us to be leaders, or organizers, or members of the First Team. What we all can, and what we all must do, is to be on the spot on each and every occasion with every atom of energy at the boiling-point to show those who have gone before us that, however great may be the material changes, McGill is still McGill.

As our Province is still an honored refuge of good-cheer and of the ordinary amenities of civilized existence it will not be out of place for us to welcome the home-comers with a toast. Perhaps it may ring pleasantly on the ears of those whose lot has forced them to dwell in the lands of the Philistine.

The Graduates of McGill. "Here's to them!"

QUEEN'S! CHA GHIEL!

Every follower of intercollegiate sport was pleased to hear of the victory won by the Queen's University football team on Saturday. Naturally, the supporters of the McGill team were more satisfied that Toronto was the team to be defeated. It is doubtful, however, if the Toronto team will feel as disappointed over the result as they would have been had the victors been their traditional rivals, McGill.

The Kingston college has really made intercollegiate athletics possible in Canada by consistently placing teams in the series every year, even though they knew that their opponents were sure to win. Handicapped as they are by being situated in a place where it is impossible to secure spectators in such numbers as is the case in the larger cities, they are consequently not able to get the funds necessary to give the students every advantage in preparing for the athletic contests. In overcoming these obstacles and putting a winning team on the field Queen's has gained the admiration of all the other colleges just as they had already won their respect by gamely refusing to quit when they were beaten.

It is to be hoped that the victory on Saturday is not the only one that will be credited to the Queen's team. We might even state that a victory for Queen's over McGill would not be unwelcome. No one here is wishing that Queen's will win the game to be played next week, nor can it be said that we desire that they will win the game to be played with McGill later at Kingston. We are in the peculiar position of a writer at another college in stating that we hope to win each of the games played with Queen's, but we sincerely hope that we will not win all of the games to be played with them.

THE SONG-BOOK

The McGill University Song-Book makes its appearance before the public today.

In undertaking the publication of a revised edition of the McGill songs the Students' Council shouldered a task of some magnitude. There has been no attempt made to curb legitimate expense as it was felt that the new Song-Book must be as complete as possible in every respect. For the visiting graduates the new Song-book should make a pleasing memento of the Centennial Celebrations, while for the undergraduate it is nothing less than a prime necessity.

CO-OPERATION IS EXPECTED OF STUDENTS

Instructions for the Monster Parade.

TEN P.M. WEDNESDAY

Fete de Nuit Begins at 7.45 Sharp.

Beyond a doubt the event of most interest to the undergraduates of McGill in the Centennial Celebration will be the "Fete de Nuit" on Wednesday evening, which will be staged entirely by the students themselves for the entertainment of the graduates who have returned to celebrate the one hundredth birthday of their Alma Mater. And most certainly the crowning part of the "Fete de Nuit" will be the monster procession, in which every undergraduate is expected to take part. This parade, which will take place immediately after the various acts put on by the different faculties, will lead off at 10 o'clock sharp, from the corner of McTavish and Sherbrooke, in the following order:

Science, Arts and Commerce, Law, Dentistry and Medicine.

Following are the directions for the forming up of each division:—

Science will line up on McTavish St., facing Sherbrooke, Arts and Commerce will fall in behind Science. Law and Dentistry will form their columns on the campus beside the main drive, also facing Sherbrooke, and Medicine will be marshalled on the road which goes past the Physics and Chemistry buildings, and meets the main drive near the Sherbrooke Street gate. When the signal to march is given Science will lead off, followed by Arts and Commerce. Law and Dentistry will start out the Sherbrooke Street gate at the same time, turning West and falling into line behind Arts and Commerce at the corner of McTavish. Then Medicine will bring up the rear.

The route to be followed by the procession is not yet definitely fixed upon. For this information see to-morrow's "Daily".

Each faculty represented in the parade will be headed by its performers, clad in their costumes. Several of the faculties will have float depicting various subjects, while there will be bands present to live up the whole thing.

As far as the Fete de Nuit proper is concerned, plans for that are practically complete, and everything is progressing very satisfactorily.

Each faculty is doing its share in the work, so that the whole performance should be a most creditable affair. Science in particular have gone to an immense amount of trouble in preparation for Wednesday night, each department giving a special representation of something connected with their work. Meds. are bringing their illustrious sovereign, His Majesty King Cook III. before the public gaze. Law is presenting the inimitable Si Whiffletree Dents as putting on a scene in a dental parlor, and Arts is producing a faculty meeting. These various productions are intended to arouse great merriment among the audience, and it will be greatly to the surprise of their sponsors if they fail in this respect. It is expected also that the choir which has been faithfully practising for some time will render selections during the course of the entertainment.

Full instructions will be given to-day to the various classes by their respective presidents regarding their share in the function, the position they are to occupy in the parade, and so forth. Watch to-morrow's "Daily" also for an change in the programme, and for the route of the march.

ALL TOWNSHIPERS WELCOME TO CLUB

No Meeting Until After Centennial.

"Ye old E. T." will help all new-comers in every way possible, and will assure them a most hearty reception. Don't be backward—"seeing is believing"—try her once and be satisfied. Support and co-operation is most urgently asked of all former members. Let one and all get together—see familiar faces; talk over old times with the old clay pipe going strong; enjoy the dinners that have the friendly feeling; go to the dances with your fair lady arm in arm. All this is not imaginary, but real if we will but get together.

No general meeting will be called till the following week owing to the Centennial. All new comers kindly take advantage of our offer and if in need of information or help of any kind call up either of these: St. Louis 996 W. Uptown 479.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

The three McGill Freshmen who were sent to Verdun on Saturday night by the City Police, have been released and are now back at College.

They had much difficulty in explaining that they were simply trying out their costumes for the Science Parade in the Fete de Nuit.

Albert de Courville is looking over the Science Parade next Wednesday for new chorus girls.

NEW QUEENS STADIUM OPENED SATURDAY

The new George T. Richardson Memorial Stadium was handed over to Queen's University by Mr. James Richardson, in the presence of a crowd which completely filled the stadium and overflowed into the playing field. The stadium is a most modern one, and was erected by Mr. James Richardson as a memorial to his brother, the late Captain George Taylor Richardson, who lost his life while a member of the famous Second Battalion in France.

He had been one of the foremost athletes in Queen's, being especially noted for his prowess in hockey. The stadium was received on behalf of the Athletic Board of Queen's by Principal W. L. Grant, of Upper Canada College, a former Queen's Professor, and addresses were made by Mayor Nickle on behalf of the citizens, and by Principal R. B. Taylor, on behalf of Queen's. Chancellor Beatty was present.

LUNCHEON WEDNESDAY FOR ARY'S GRADUATES

An informal luncheon will be tendered the out-of-town graduates in Arts attending the Centennial Reunion, on Wednesday, the 12th inst., at 1.15 o'clock at the Royal Victoria College. Guest tickets will be distributed during registration on Wednesday morning.

Local graduates are asked to purchase tickets for this luncheon when registering on Monday and Tuesday, 10th and 11th inst.

PROMINENT ALUMNA IS RETURNING

Popular Miss Susan Cameron is at R.V.C.

WELL KNOWN.

Was Formerly Vice-Warden of Royal Victoria College

There is no more welcome woman graduate returning to partake of the Centennial celebration of their Alma Mater than Mrs. Walter Vaughan, beloved and best known as Miss Cameron. It is impossible to over-estimate the love and esteem in which Mrs. Vaughan is held by each and every student and colleague who has had the privilege of knowing her; whenever her name is mentioned within our halls some one is almost sure to smile and indulge in precious memories of the past friendship with their former lecturer, councillor and sympathetic friend.

In learning of the tradition of our Alma Mater R.V.C., all of us while still in our first days here, soon become acquainted with the name and fame of Miss Susan Cameron; and the more we hear about her, the more we begin to realize what a whole lot we have missed in our college careers by being born just four or five years too late to have sat in her lectures and to have profited by both her classroom instruction and her personal influence.

This power of intimate personality with all her students is the most outstanding and lasting tribute to her character. In whatever phase of work, whether in the lecture room, in the social activities of college life or in individual intercourse with others, this gift of transmitting her own enthusiasm and kindling that of others was for her the love and loyalty of all with whom she came into contact. When Miss Cameron left in 1918, after nineteen years of faithful and strenuous service both as Vice-Warden of the Royal Victoria College and as a member of the staff in the Department of English, her colleagues and pupils felt that something was being lost. It was a sudden and unexpected loss. With such an honorable and splendid reputation still fresh in the minds of her university friends, it is no wonder that Mrs. Vaughan on her return to her Alma Mater is being waited for by her staunch and loyal supporters with a very sincere and warm welcome.

By the time this article appears in the Daily Mrs. Vaughan will be once more a resident of R.V.C., no longer as either undergraduate or as a member of the staff, but as a beloved and very welcome guest; the whole undergraduate body of the R.V.C. extend to her a hearty greeting.

Co-ed Hater: "Don't you know that woman is man's worst enemy?"
Frosh: "Yes, but the Good Book tells us to love our enemies."

A LAKE IN THE CENTRE OF THE CITY.

For some seventy years "the good old Y" has been at work in our city. While old in years and experience it has kept young and fresh and vigorous in its policy and programme of activities.

The activities that Central Branch has scheduled for this Fall and Winter has created a favorable impression among the membership. Daily there is an increasing buzz of business among the many sections which include a large group of students from McGill University.

Students are especially impressed with the fine large Natatorium at Central. The pool is 75 feet long by 25 feet wide, and contains scientifically filtered water which is kept at an even temperature of 70 degrees. The bright, cheerful clean appearance is obtained by the finish of white mosaic tile.

The Physical Department of Central has just secured the services of Mr. E. A. Chilcott of Toronto as swimming instructor and director of the Young Men's Section Physical Training Class. He is highly qualified for his work, having been all round diving champion of Ontario for two years, served eighteen months with C.E.F. as Physical Instructor, and four years in His Majesty's Navy, part of which time he was Physical Instructor for officers at Southampton. Students should take ad-

FRESHMENS' PLANS COME TO NOUGHT

Wily Sophs Upset Deep-laid Schemes.

Alas the unfortunate Freshmen. Why is that never, never can they prevail over their wily betters, the Sophomores? Time and time again deep-laid plans, sure of success, come to naught. And Saturday evening was no exception to the rule.

The verdant ones of Science, being in number far greater than their fellow students of the second year (there will be fewer of them after the Christmas examinations), conceived the mighty idea of meeting in secret conclave, and then jointly and boldly proceeding to chastise those horrid, nasty Sophs. But alas! the Sophomores, among many other qualities, are possessed of wide-open and well trained ears. And so sooner had the green ones laid their plans than their wiser brethren knew more about them than they did themselves.

And so, that when at 8.30 Freshmen could be seen hurrying to their rendezvous, many a silent chuckle was indulged in. It is true that some of the youthful raiders, having long and speedy limbs, managed to make an escape. But many remained behind in the fierce clutches of the Sophomores, who thereupon began to visit well-merited judgment on the heads of the unfortunate offenders, who have vowed after this to leave the Sophomores in peace.

Capital Being Raised in Canada—Where Will Insurance Be Placed?

Will the Mount Royal Hotel Co. place their fire insurance in Canada? This is the question beginning to agitate the minds of brokers here. In view of the fact that securities were placed in Canada the question is pertinent. Brokers claim that in the past the United Hotels, Ltd., who control the Mount Royal, with hotels in Toronto, Niagara Falls and Hamilton, in Canada, besides their American chain, have heretofore placed their fire insurance through a New York broker. It may be a little premature to open this question, but in view of the fact that the project was financed in Montreal it is no more than fair that the local brokers should ask the question if this business is to be placed in Canada.

WELCOME HOME

This is THE week.

On Wednesday the four days' celebration to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of this University will begin, but already we have with us the grads of Old McGill. This morning the registration of the never-ending stream of incoming graduates commences at Strathcona Hall, and for the next week the Campus and the streets of the city will be thronged with the faces of those seeking to revive the memories of their undergraduate life in days gone by.

It will be a strange home-coming for some of them, for McGill is an Empire University, and her graduates are to be found in every rank of life and in every quarter of the globe. Recently it was reported that two graduates were making their way to the Reunion from North Henan, in China, where, until the advent of the war, there actually existed a McGill Graduates' Society with a membership of ten.

The changes in the University itself are marked. There will still be the Old Arts Building at the head of the long avenues of trees, but for the graduate of the sixties or the seventies of last century, who has not revisited his Alma Mater since that time, a new McGill will have replaced the old. The New Medical building and the Stadium are the work of the last decade only, and piles of rough-hewn stone in at least two places on the Campus show that it is still a growing McGill, and that the University is yet young for all her hundred years.

As it will be indeed a home-coming in the truest sense of the word the officers of the Graduate Society and the University authorities have spared no effort to make the events of the coming week live in the minds of our visitors. Wednesday evening has been assigned to the Undergraduate Body as a whole, when their share of the entertainment will take place. The Council have been hard at work on the plans for the Fête-de-Nuit, which is to take place on that occasion, but it will require the whole-hearted, enthusiastic co-operation of every student to assure its complete success. This is the chance for everybody. There will be other Undergraduate events on both track and gridiron, but here the great effort will of necessity be confined to the specially-trained few. It is not given to all of us to be leaders, or organizers, or members of the First Team. What we all can, and what we all must do, is to be on the spot on each and every occasion with every atom of energy at the boiling-point to show those who have gone before us that, however great may be the material changes, McGill is still McGill.

As our Province is still an honored refuge of good-cheer and of the ordinary amenities of civilized existence it will not be out of place for us to welcome the home-comers with a toast. Perhaps it may ring pleasantly on the ears of those whose lot has forced them to dwell in the lands of the Philistine.

QUEEN'S! CHA GHIEL!

Every follower of intercollegiate sport was pleased to hear of the victory won by the Queen's University football team on Saturday. Naturally, the supporters of the McGill team were more satisfied that Toronto was the team to be defeated. It is doubtful, however, if the Toronto team will feel as disappointed over the result as they would have been had the victors been their traditional rivals, McGill.

The Kingston college has really made intercollegiate athletics possible in Canada by consistently placing teams in the series every year, even though they knew that their opponents were sure to win. Handicapped as they are by being situated in a place where it is impossible to secure spectators in such numbers as is the case in the larger cities, they are consequently not able to get the funds necessary to give the students every advantage in preparing for the athletic contests. In overcoming these obstacles and putting a winning team on the field Queen's has gained the admiration of all the other colleges just as they had already won their respect by gamely refusing to quit when they were beaten.

It is to be hoped that the victory on Saturday is not the only one that will be credited to the Queen's team. We might even state that a victory for Queen's over McGill would not be unwelcome. No one here is wishing that Queen's will win the game to be played next week, nor can it be said that we desire that they will win the game to be played with McGill later at Kingston. We are in the peculiar position of a writer at another college in stating that we hope to win each of the games played with Queen's, but we sincerely hope that we will not win all of the games to be played with them.

THE SONG-BOOK

The McGill University Song-Book makes its appearance before the public today.

In undertaking the publication of a revised edition of the McGill songs the Students' Council shouldered a task of some magnitude. There has been no attempt made to curb legitimate expense as it was felt that the new Song-Book must be as complete as possible in every respect. For the visiting graduates the new Song-book should make a pleasing memento of the Centennial Celebrations, while for the undergraduate it is nothing less than a prime necessity.

CO-OPERATION IS EXPECTED OF STUDENTS

Instructions for the Monster Parade.

TEN P.M. WEDNESDAY

Fete de Nuit Begins at 7.45 Sharp.

Beyond a doubt the event of most interest to the undergraduates of McGill in the Centennial Celebration will be the "Fete de Nuit" on Wednesday evening, which will be staged entirely by the students themselves for the entertainment of the graduates who have returned to celebrate the one hundredth birthday of their Alma Mater. And most certainly the crowning part of the "Fete de Nuit" will be the monster procession, in which every undergraduate is expected to take part. This parade, which will take place immediately after the various acts put on by the different faculties, will lead off at 10 o'clock sharp, from the corner of McTavish and Sherbrooke, in the following order:

Science, Arts and Commerce, Law, Dentistry and Medicine.

Following are the directions for the forming up of each division:

Science will line up on McTavish St., facing Sherbrooke, Arts and Commerce will fall in behind Science. Law and Dentistry will form their columns on the campus beside the main drive, also facing Sherbrooke, and Medicine will be marshalled on the road which goes past the Physics and Chemistry buildings, and meets the main drive near the Sherbrooke Street gate. When the signal to march is given Science will lead off, followed by Arts and Commerce. Law and Dentistry will start out the Sherbrooke Street gate at the same time, turning West and falling into line behind Arts and Commerce at the corner of McTavish. Then Medicine will bring up the rear.

The route to be followed by the procession is not yet definitely fixed upon. For this information see to-morrow's "Daily."

Each faculty represented in the parade will be headed by its performers, clad in their costumes. Several of the faculties will have float depicting various subjects, while there will be bands present to live up the whole thing.

As far as the Fete de Nuit proper is concerned, plans for that are practically complete, and everything is progressing very satisfactorily.

Each faculty is doing its share in the work, so that the whole performance should be a most creditable affair. Science in particular have gone to an immense amount of trouble in preparation for Wednesday night, each department giving a special representation of something connected with their work. Meds. are bringing their illustrious sovereign, His Majesty King Cook III. before the public gaze. Law is presenting the immortal Si Whiffletree Dents. are putting on a scene in a dental parlor, and Arts is producing a faculty meeting. These various productions are intended to arouse great merriment among the audience, and it will be greatly to the surprise of their sponsors if they fail in this respect. It is expected also that the choir which has been faithfully practising for some time will render selections during the course of the entertainment.

Full instructions will be given to-day to the various classes by their respective presidents regarding their share in the function, the position they are to occupy in the parade, and so forth. Watch to-morrow's "Daily" also for an change in the programme, and for the route of the march.

ALL TOWNSHIPERS WELCOME TO CLUB

No Meeting Until After Centennial.

"Ye old E. T." will help all new-comers in every way possible, and will assure them a most hearty reception. Don't be backward—"seeing is believing"—try her once and be satisfied. Support and co-operation is most urgently asked of all former members. Let one and all get together—see familiar faces; talk over old times with the old clay pipe going strong; enjoy the dinners that have the friendly feeling; go to the dances with your fair lady arm in arm. All this is not imaginary, but real if we will but get together.

No general meeting will be called till the following week owing to the Centennial. All new-comers kindly take advantage of our offer and if in need of information or help of any kind call up either of these: St. Louis 996 W. Uptown 479.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

The three McGill Freshmen who were sent to Verdun on Saturday night by the City Police, have been released and are now back at College.

They had much difficulty in explaining that they were simply trying out their costumes for the Science Parade in the Fete de Nuit.

Albert de Courville is looking over the Science Parade next Wednesday for new chorus girls.

VARIED TOPICS.

Graduates Specially Invited on Four Centennial Reunion Days.

Commencing this afternoon and continuing until Saturday, a special series of moving picture films of scientific and educational interest will be shown in the Physics Building. NEW QUEENS STADIUM OPENED SATURDAY

The new George T. Richardson Memorial Stadium was handed over to Queen's University by Mr. James Richardson, in the presence of a crowd which completely filled the stadium and overflowed into the playing field. The stadium is a most modern one, and was erected by Mr. James Richardson as a memorial to his brother, the late Captain George Taylor Richardson, who lost his life while a member of the famous Second Battalion in France.

He had been one of the foremost athletes in Queen's, being especially noted for his prowess in hockey. The stadium was received on behalf of the Athletic Board of Queen's by Principal W. L. Grant, of Upper Canada College, a former Queen's Professor, and addresses were made by Mayor Nickle on behalf of the citizens, and by Principal R. B. Taylor, on behalf of Queen's. Chancellor Beatty was present.

LUNCHEON WEDNESDAY FOR ARYS GRADUATES

An informal luncheon will be tendered the out-of-town graduates in Arts attending the Centennial Reunion, on Wednesday, the 12th inst., at 1.15 o'clock at the Royal Victoria College. Guest tickets will be distributed during registration on Wednesday morning.

Local graduates are asked to purchase tickets for this luncheon when registering on Monday and Tuesday, 10th and 11th inst.

PROMINENT ALUMNA IS RETURNING

Popular Miss Susan Cameron is at R.V.C.

WELL KNOWN.

Was Formerly Vice-Warden of Royal Victoria College

There is no more welcome woman graduate returning to partake of the Centennial celebration of their Alma Mater than Mrs. Walter Vaughan, beloved and best known as Miss Cameron. It is impossible to over-estimate the love and esteem in which Mrs. Vaughan is held by each and every student and colleague who has had the privilege of knowing her; whenever her name is mentioned within our halls some one is almost sure to smile and indulge in precious memories of the past friendship with their former lecturer, councillor and sympathetic friend.

In learning of the tradition of our Alma Mater R.V.C., all of us while still in our first days here, soon become acquainted with the name and fame of Miss Susan Cameron; and the more we hear about her, the more we begin to realize what a whole lot we have missed in our college careers by being born just four or five years too late to have sat in her lectures and to have profited by both her classroom instruction and her personal influence.

This power of intimate personality with all her students is the most outstanding and lasting tribute to her character. In whatever phase of work, whether in the lecture room, in the social activities of college life or in individual intercourse with others, this gift of transmitting her own enthusiasm and kindling that of others was for her the love and loyalty of all with whom she came into contact. When Miss Cameron left in 1918, after nineteen years of faithful and strenuous service both as Vice-Warden of the Royal Victoria College and as a member of the staff in the Department of English, her colleagues and pupils felt that something we relied on had suddenly failed us. With such an honorable and splendid reputation still fresh in the minds of her university friends, it is no wonder that Mrs. Vaughan on her return to her Alma Mater is being waited for by her staunch and loyal supporters with a very sincere and warm welcome.

By the time this article appears in the Daily Mrs. Vaughan will be once more a resident of R.V.C., no longer as either undergraduate or as a member of the staff, but as a beloved and very welcome guest; the whole undergraduate body of the R.V.C. extend to her a hearty greeting.

Co-ed Hater: "Don't you know that woman is man's worst enemy?"
Frosh: "Yes, but the Good Book tells us to love our enemies."

A LAKE IN THE CENTRE OF THE CITY.

For some seventy years "the good old Y" has been at work in our city. While old in years and experience it has kept young and fresh and vigorous in its policy and programme of activities.

The activities that Central Branch has scheduled for this Fall and Winter has created a favorable impression among the membership. Daily there is an increasing buzz of business among the many sections which include a large group of students from McGill University.

Students are especially impressed with the fine large Natatorium at Central. The pool is 75 feet long by 25 feet wide, and contains scientifically filtered water which is kept at an even temperature of 70 degrees. The bright, cheerful clean appearance is obtained by the finish of white mosaic tile.

The Physical Department of Central has just secured the services of Mr. E. A. Chilcott of Toronto as swimming instructor and director of the Young Men's Section Physical Training Class. He is highly qualified for his work, having been all round diving champion of Ontario for two years, served eighteen months with C.E.F. as Physical Instructor, and four years in His Majesty's Navy, part of which time he was Physical Instructor for officers at Southampton. Students should take ad-

FRESHMENS' PLANS COME TO NOUGHT

Wily Sophs Upset Deep-laid Schemes.

Alas the unfortunate Freshmen. Why is that never, never can they prevail over their wily betters, the Sophomores? Time and time again deep-laid plans, sure of success, come to naught. And Saturday evening was no exception to the rule.

The verdant ones of Science, being in number far greater than their fellow students of the second year (there will be fewer of them after the Christmas examinations), conceived the mighty idea of meeting in secret conclave, and then jointly and boldly proceeding to chastise those horrid, nasty Sophs. But alas! the Sophomores, among many other qualities, are possessed of wide-open and well trained ears. And so sooner had the green ones laid their plans than their wiser brethren knew more about them than they did themselves.

And so, that when at 8.30 Freshmen could be seen hurrying to their rendezvous, many a silent chuckle was indulged in. It is true that some of the youthful raiders, having long and speedy limbs, managed to make an escape. But many remained behind in the fierce clutches of the Sophomores, who thereupon began to visit well-merited judgment on the heads of the unfortunate offenders, who have vowed after this to leave the Sophomores in peace.

MCGILL AND MONTREAL IN

Mr. Gunn made a very efficient referee.

The second game was very keenly contested. The players made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in skill. There are some who think that the Red and White forwards in this game put up a better display than those who played on the First team. The final score was 5 to 3 for Montreal.

The following men represented McGill:

- Full back—Helmcken.
- Three-quarters — Anglin, Beardsley, Good, Reid.
- Halves—Whidden and Cooper.
- Five-eighths—Peacock.
- Forwards—Cleland, Blundell, Brown, Trites, McGoun, Bearsto, Robertson.
- Mr. Ross refereed.

There will be a practice on the Old Campus every day this week at 4 p.m. Prof. Matthews will be out today to give the three quarters some coaching. After the practice a captain of the First Team will be elected. Everybody turn out. Forwards with weight and experience are urgently needed.

THE FISH PATROL

There's a dirty sea by Eastern Point, with a pitch and a toss and a roll. But it's better far than the combars are on the path of the Fish Patrol! For it's cross seas, tall seas, and a ton or so of brine.

And a smutty patch of yellow by the horizon line!

It's swing and twist with a starboard list as she cuts like a driven spade. And the great seas crash on her swaying bows in the grip of the Nor'East Trade!

For it's blue water, green water, with never a sign of shoal. That hurls the spray at the battered craft on the Northern Fish Patrol!

It's gray weather black weather with the wind from East and North. And sullen fogs of ochre like the fogs upon the Earth!

But you'll find them shipped with steam or sail, wherever the steep seas roll.

The men who served their prentice-ship on the Northern Fish Point.

The costume shops in Montreal have been cleaned out by Science Sophs. Are these for the Freshmen or the Fete de Nuit?

Three-Cornered Tie May Develop at Season's End.

Queen's drew first blood in the intercollegiate football schedule when they downed the team hailing from Toronto Varsity by a score of 9 to 5 in the game which took place in Kingston on Saturday. With both Duncan and Snyder on their line-up the Blue and White team landed in the limestone city ready to perform the usual unpleasant task of taking the so-called "weak sister" of the intercollegiate into camp, but they returned to Toronto leaving behind a freshly cut scalp dangling from the belts of the Presbyterians.

Queen's played Varsity in masterly manner by holding their line and forcing the much talked of halfbacks, Somerville and Snyder, to bow before the prowess of their newly acquired star, "Pep" Laidley. The Queen's centre half showed marvellous form in punting and running, and brought the crowd to its feet on several occasions by sensational dashes for long gains. Laidley stood out as the most capable half on the field and it was mainly due to his efforts that Queen's achieved their most gratifying victory in recent years.

Somerville on the Queen's team displayed some pretty attempts at field goals, but the soggy ball refused to act in the proper manner and he missed the poles by inches on several occasions. As a matter of fact the condition of the field prevented both teams from showing what they are capable of and no forecast of the probable winners of the intercollegiate championship can be made from the result of the game.

The only touch made in the game came as a surprise in the third quarter, when Campbell, of Queen's, picked up a ball that had been fumbled by Varsity at centre field and ran fifty yards to score a try. Outside of this rather lucky score the two teams can be said to have made rather an even showing and they should provide an interesting contest in the return game. From the showing made on Saturday both of the teams can be said to be serious contenders for the title and they will give any other aggregation a stiff fight.

Critics at the game are of the opinion that the series this fall will develop into a real three-cornered fight for the title and an interesting contest may be expected in Montreal this week-end.

SPORTS ARE TO BE HELD NEXT FRIDAY

All Entries Must Be in by Tuesday Night.

One of the most interesting events in the coming Centenary celebration will be the University sports which take place next Friday. This is the only important meet that will be staged at McGill this fall.

The committee in charge has been successful in securing a team of runners from Varsity, to take part in an intercollegiate relay race. In view of the fact that these teams will meet the following Friday in Kingston this event will prove to be most interesting. A large number of graduates will be present so it behooves our athletes to show them that old McGill still produces athletes who are out to win.

Entry lists will be placed on the hall porter's desk at the Union and at the Stadium. All entries must be in by Tuesday night.

All together, athletes! Make this the greatest track meet McGill has ever known.

Insurance in All Its Branches to Be Taken Up for Special Study

Courses covering the entire field of insurance will be given at Columbia this fall at hours convenient for the business man or woman. The home study division, University Extension, and the School of Business have announced an elaborate series of insurance courses in which insurance experts will co-operate with the university.

Ralph H. Blanchard, in charge of the insurance work at Columbia, will be assisted in giving a course on fire insurance by Robert P. Barbour, secretary of the North British and Mercantile. Mr. Barbour, who was one of the organizers of the Insurance Society of New York and is a member of its executive committee, is the author of a standard textbook used in fire insurance practice.

J. B. Maclean, assistant actuary of the Mutual Life of New York, will give a life insurance course in which he will present the underlying principles of life insurance and explain in detail the application of these principles to practical situations. Mr. Maclean is an actuary of wide experience both in this country and in Great Britain. He is a fellow of the Actuarial Society of America, the Institute of Actuaries of London, and the Faculty of Actuaries of Scotland.

Prof. Blanchard will give courses in the School of Business on the underlying principles of insurance, marine insurance, fire insurance, an introductory course on insurance principles, life insurance, and casualty insurance.

Ohio State Fair Held Unique Exhibition Along These Lines.

Columbus, Ohio.—One of the most unique and striking fire prevention exhibits ever attempted by Ohio or any other state, is that being shown at the Ohio State Fair, which is now going on here. The exhibit is at the south entrance of the coliseum and attendants are on duty to explain the hazards and their care.

The fact that 388 persons were burned to death in Ohio last year and that property valued at $14,000,000 was destroyed in the state is being brought home to the 30,000 visitors in a striking manner. Co-operating with the fire marshal in this exhibit are the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the Underwriters' Laboratories, of Chicago; the National Fire Protection Association of Boston; the Ohio Conservation & Fire Prevention Association and the Ohio Inspection Bureau.

MOVIES OF UNDERGRAD

That is an alluring proposal, of the Yale juniors; for perpetuating the life and times of undergraduate Yale by means of motion-picture films. Think of being able to hand down to posterity pictures that show the real men of Yale sitting on the famous Yale fence in their football sweater, or throwing pennies upon the stage of the local theater, or receiving that portentous whack on the back on "tap day" as preliminary to entrance into the real social life of the college! The advantages of such a plan would seem to be sufficient to override any objections. Even that somewhat despondent Yale objection, that the historic snake dance after a football victory over Harvard could not be preserved in the films, for the simple reason that there are no football victories over Harvard nowadays, would doubtless be overridden by the course of events. And there are many occasions in the undergraduate life, wholly apart from athletic victories, which would doubtless prove highly interesting a hundred years hence. If Yale tries it, other colleges and universities will be eager to follow suit. All have their distinctive scenes. There is, of course, no bit of university history without its local color, and it is this that will be best worth preserving. Besides, there is the chance of preserving genius in the bud, all unaware. A film of that Harvard observance of 1825, whereat the young Oliver Wendell Holmes read a poem, would have been doubly valuable, years afterward, when the poet had become famous. It the alumni of Yale or Harvard today could, for the mere asking, review the history of their respective institutions by seeing motion pictures of undergraduate life in the successive historical periods, there would be a rush to apply for places.

Still, the notion of depending upon motion pictures for history raises strange misgivings. How are the people who see the films a hundred years from now going to be sure that they are looking at picture of real people and scenes, and not of play-acted representations? The filming of the scenes of a pageant dealing with the Concord fight and Battle of Lexington, not so very long ago, comes stalking into thought. The Lexington pageant was perfectly good as a pageant. Furthermore, it was perfectly natural that somebody should wish to take motion pictures of it. With those pictures actually filmed, there was nothing unreasonable in having them worked into a picture story for the motion-picture circuits. Apparently that is where they are today. But the people who are seeing those pictures presumably have no means of identifying them with the Lexington pageant. In fact, they have only their processes of inductive pictures as authentic history. They know that films did not exist in the Revolutionary days, but there will be no such line of division in the future.

Doubts of this sort can, perhaps, be obviated if sufficient care be taken. Films can be authenticated by the signatures and certificates of trusted individuals, as, for instance, in the case of a university, by the signatures of its president and secretary, or other officials. But some attention will require to be paid to this phase of the matter now, while the plan is developing. It is not one whit more nearly to take steps for dissipating this sort of doubt with respect to the filming of historic events and public functions. If something is not done about it the way will be open to very annoying confusion in later years. The nuclei of vast

GYMNASTIC CLUB MEETING TO-DAY

Montreal High Gym. Again
Secured.

The Gymnastic Club has secured the use of the Montreal High School Gymnasium for its practices, which will commence shortly, and everyone who has had any experience in apparatus work is urged to turn out. Attendance at the practices will of course exempt first and second year men from the regular compulsory physical training.

Besides the competition for the Wicksteed Silver and Bronze Medals, and the Harvey Cup, which is open to all undergraduates, there will be a return meet with Varsity, the champions of last year, with R. M. C. also as a probable competitor.

Of last year's intercollegiate team Paul Scott, Delahay, Consiglio and Holland are back again, but a great deal more material is needed if we are to avenge the defeat of last year. Here is a chance for you to do something for your University. Never mind if you are not already an expert gymnast. It is only a matter of practice.

There will be a meeting of the executive at 5 p.m. to-day in the lounge room of the Union, when plans for the year will be discussed.

IMMIGRATION INTO PALESTINE

The Zionist organization states that about 10,000 Jews entered Palestine ports during the year ended December 31, 1920, according to figures supplied by the Jaffa office of the immigration department of the Zionist Commission. Included in these figures are the 3,000 Palestinian Jews, who had been exiled by the Turkish authorities and found refuge during the war in Egypt, Syria, Cyprus and Corsica. They were permitted by the British authorities to return to Palestine soon after the armistice. Of the 7,000 new immigrants 3,000 from the Ukraine, Crimea, Caucasus, Armenia and Persia came through Constantinople, while 3,500 came via Vienna and Trieste from Lithuania, Poland, Galicia and Germany. The remaining 500 came from other European and American countries.

SEARCH FOR NORSE RELICS

Hjalmar Ruud-Holand, a member of the Wisconsin Historical Society, has announced that search for relics of Norse explorers who visited Minnesota in 1262 has begun. Mr. Holland is owner of the Kensington "runestone" which places the first visit of white man to the northern part of the continent more than 100 years before the arrival of Columbus at San Salvador.

collections of valuable historical films were placed in the hands of various national governments through the development of the European war. The films held in governmental repositories are photographic reproductions of the soldiery and scenes that actually figured in the war. But there must be many films in existence that only purport to be typical of these. They are the sort that were prepared for popular entertainment when authentic films of the real participants were not available. The two kinds need to be differentiated. It is time for a general understanding as to how the play-acted films are to be enduringly distinguished from those that are true.

The Threshold of Life

Many men allow themselves to attain middle age before thinking of Life Assurance. The subject should make its strongest appeal to a man standing upon the threshold of his career.

Life Assurance is always economical. If taken up at an early age it is doubly so. Endowment Assurance taken up now, matures at the moment when either your business, or your family will feel the benefit of it most.

Avoid the regrets that many men feel in later life.

SCIENCE SHOWING IN FETE DE NUIT

Will Play Splendid Part in Celebration Wednesday.

Preparations are going ahead for the part Science will take in the Fete de Nuit, and everyone connected with the arrangements is working at top speed. The parade given by the Sophomores and Freshmen classes fair to out do the splendor of the Seniors' floats. Some of the groups are already equipped and have their part completely worked out. There seems to be a great diversity of ideas, and many of the grads of the eighties will learn of things that happened then which were not known in their day.

A limited number of costumes will be available at 5.30 p.m. Wednesday, from the afternoon Pageant, and these will be supplied to those groups which have had difficulty in fitting themselves out. The number is very limited, however, and every group is urged to do everything possible in the way of costumes.

A large amount of make-up material, powder and rouge, has been reserved and a well known member of the Players' Club will be on hand Wednesday night to effect any necessary alterations.

If for any reason any Freshman or Sophomore is unable to take his part in the parade, he must obtain a substitute and see that this man understands the part he is to take.

Every evidence goes to show that Science is going to put up a very fine show and from the enthusiasm already shown Science will be there with all the frills.

SUCCESSFUL SHOOT AT RIFLE RANGE

Consistent Scoring at Saturday's Shoot.

If the first shoot of the Rifle Association may be regarded as an indication of the success to be expected during the remainder of the season, the members of the club may look forward to a record year. The attendance was not overly large, but thorough sportsmanship and congeniality marked the afternoon's outing. The old steadies at the game were in evidence with their consistent scores, which did not fall far below those at the close of last year. This speaks well in view of the fact that considerable time for practice is yet available before the main competitions are held. The newer members of the club also showed up well, and it is hoped their interest will be maintained.

The shortage of time permitted the use of but one range, namely 200 yards, at which distance two sets of a sighter and seven rounds were fired, making a possible of 70. Among the better scores were:—

- F. Emmons 57
- A. Brouse 56
- F. Mooney 56
- E. MacNutt 54

If a sufficient number of men signify their desire to shoot during the coming holiday another meet will be held on Wednesday at 9 a.m., returning from the ranges by 2 p.m.

OXFORD ISSUES ROLL OF HONOR

Over 14,000 Names Are Inscribed

The University of Oxford has just issued (at the Clarendon Press) its final Roll of Service in the recent war. With infinite pains it has traced the connection of over 14,000 men with the colleges and the university. In each case the Roll gives the date of matriculation, the name degree and distinctions gained before the war, the date of commencement of service; the rank, unit and highest acting rank, the fields of foreign service; distinctions gained during the war, including mention in despatches.

The Roll is carefully printed on good paper, and the names of those who gave their lives stand out clearly in heavy type. This characteristically modest memorial is presented to the public with a brief but magnificent introduction which summarizes the various activities of the numerous colleges and closes with a chaste but powerful tribute to those who went Westward with the Sun.

THE INFLUENCE OF THE FILM

The Boston Globe says:
The moving picture is a powerful instrument. Its possibilities are tremendous. Its value, though, has not been appreciated, except in a few instances, where men quick enough to see how much good such a medium of communication could do if adapted to their own field have utilized it. At present it falls very often into a kind of amusement which is not wholly creditable to the audience.

LONELY IS THE MAN WHO UNDERSTANDS

Lonely is the man who understands. Lonely is vision... that leads a man away... From the pasture-lands. From the furrows of corn and the brown loads of hay. To the mountain-side. To the high places where contemplation brings. All his adventures. Among the sowers and the tillers in the wide. Valleys to one fused experience.... John Drinkwater.

LEARNING BY EXPERIENCE

Gambling has secured so great a hold on the present generation that it is only by the ordeal of personal loss its victims will learn wisdom. It is a commonplace nowadays to say there is no harm in a little betting, and the chief difficulty lies in the fact that most people have no clear idea of what is right and what is wrong. Until they have themselves supplied the answer, it is impossible to prove that gambling is wrong.

The professional operator naturally trades upon this, and the growing evil seems likely to descend with increasing weight on the shoulders of those who take up this particular two-edged by trades upon this, and the growing moralist or the sentimentalist, however, for it is essentially an evil that must work out its own salvation.

FIRST MEETING OF CHESS CLUB TODAY

Enthusiasts Will Gather in Union at 8 P.M.

The first meeting of the McGill Chess Club will be held to-night at 8 p.m. All students who are interested in this game are requested to meet to-night at the Union at the above-mentioned hour.

To those students who are at College for the first time it may be said that the Chess Club has always been in the past a successful organization. To maintain this standard the full co-operation of the students is required.

Last year a team from McGill was entered in the City Chess League. The players went through the season without losing a game, and thereby winning the Championship. A successful tournament was also held.

Besides the election of officers for the ensuing year, another matter of importance will be brought up. This concerns the use of the Chess sets which are supplied by the Union. Owing to mis-use of the sets which were lent to careless students the Union has refused to lend any more sets for the time being. It comes about, however, that only members of the Chess Club in future will be allowed the use of the games. This matter will be fully discussed to-night, and the President of the Union has consented to address the meeting on this point. For this reason it is important that all students interested in chess should be at the meeting at the Union to-night.
